Prohibited Uses of Alliance Trademarks and Logos

In addition to the uses prohibited elsewhere in these Guidelines, and by any separate, written agreement signed by the Connectivity Standards Alliance (“Alliance” or “the Alliance”), Alliance trademarks and logos may not be used in the following ways:

- To identify products or services that are not certified by the Alliance;
- To label products in a manner that may imply that the product or service has been certified by the Alliance when it has not;
- In conjunction with other terms such as "Zigbee Inside," "Zigbee Compatible," "Works with Zigbee", "Zigbee Ready, "Zigbee Router," or any other similar designation, declaration, affirmation, labeling or packaging that may imply that the product or service has been certified by the Alliance, whether or not the product has been certified by the Alliance. Certified products must be labeled as “Zigbee Certified” or “Zigbee Compliant Platform” as appropriate, or use the Zigbee Certified Product or Zigbee Compliant Platform logo after the appropriate certification has been obtained from the Alliance;
- As part of a third party’s trademark (example: do NOT use, “Company X Zigbee Gateway”);
- In combination with other non-Alliance trademarks or logos (example: do NOT use “BrandX Zigbee” as a product name);
- In combination with other words, symbols, or numbers either as one word or with a hyphen (example: do NOT use, “ZIGBEE-X95” as a product name or model number);
- As part of an Internet domain name, company name, trade name or commercial name;
- In a manner that confuses, will likely cause confusion or may cause confusion over whether a product or service is certified by the Alliance;
- In a manner that would imply Alliance’s affiliation with or endorsement, sponsorship, support or certification (other than products certified by the Alliance) of a third-party product or service;
- In a manner likely to jeopardize or adversely affect the validity or enforceability of, or otherwise infringe, dilute, misappropriate or impair the Alliance’s rights in its trademarks, logos or other intellectual property rights;
- In a manner that disparages or defames the Alliance or any other person or entity, or in any other manner that is derogatory, negative, unlawful, encourages unlawful behavior, harassing, threatening, invasive of another's privacy, abusive, harmful, vulgar, tortuous, misleading, libelous, obscene, pornographic, excessively violent or otherwise in poor taste, infringing or otherwise objectionable in any manner;
- In a manner that might diminish, dilute or attempt to dilute, directly or indirectly, the value of goodwill in any Alliance trademarks, logos or other intellectual property rights; and
- In connection with any unlawful activities or to encourage unlawful activities.

The Alliance expressly reserves all rights, legal, equitable or otherwise, including the right to revoke permission to use the Alliance trademarks and logos and to terminate any applicable agreement(s), and the right to initiate formal legal action without further notice, in connection with any uses of Alliance trademarks or logos that are prohibited either by these Guidelines or by any applicable agreement, or are contrary to any relevant laws or regulations.

Use of the Alliance Trademarks and Logos in Manufactured Products and Services

To the extent a product or service contains components or elements that are certified by the Connectivity Standards Alliance, the entire product or service must be certified by the Connectivity Standards Alliance in order to label the product or service and associated packaging as a "Zigbee Certified" product or service. Furthermore, unless the entire product or service is certified by the Alliance, particular components or elements of product or service cannot be identified as "Zigbee Certified" (even if those components or elements themselves are certified by the Alliance).

If an Alliance member provides a component or element (that is certified by the Connectivity Standards Alliance) to the manufacturer of an entire product or service, such Alliance member must promptly notify the Alliance in writing if such member knows or has reason to believe that Zigbee trademarks and/or logos are used with entire product or service in a manner not compliant with these Guidelines. In the event of any non-compliance with this paragraph, representatives from the Alliance and the applicable Alliance member will attempt to resolve such non-compliance. If the Alliance and the applicable non-member are not able to resolve the matter of non-compliance on terms reasonably acceptable to the Alliance, the applicable member's membership in the Alliance may be terminated.

Proper Use of the Connectivity Standards Alliance Trademarks and Logos

Spelling:

The Alliance trademarks and logos must be used exactly as set forth herein, without any variation, including, without limitation, similar marks, phonetic equivalents and abbreviations.

Size:

The design and/or logo of Alliance trademarks and logos should not be displayed in a size so small that any design feature or the registered or unregistered status symbol of the trademark or logo is lost and should appear in exactly the same spatial relationships as set forth in the graphic samples set forth herein. A design or logo should appear by itself, in a reasonable size. For additional guidance please refer to the Alliance Brand Guidelines document

When to use ® or TM:

When referring to any Connectivity Standards Alliance trademark in body copy/text, always use the term together with the symbol that denotes the appropriate status of the trademark in the relevant jurisdiction, as applicable (e.g., ® or TM), and which may be notified by the Alliance in writing from time to time. If you are unsure whether you should use the ® symbol or the ™ symbol, you must use the ™ symbol. It is only necessary to use the ® or ™ mark the first time you refer to the Alliance trademark.

The Alliance trademarks and logos set forth below must only be used as indicated below.
